

Contents

Table of Cases	xv
Table of Statutes	xix
Table of Statutory Instruments	xxi
Table of European Legislation	xxiii
List of Abbreviations	xxv
1. Introduction	1
1. Individual Labour and Equality Rights and Law's Duality	1
2. Individual Labour and Equality Rights and Traditions of Labour Law Scholarship	3
3. Individual Labour and Equality Rights and Legal Realist Methodology	4
4. Individual Labour and Equality Rights and Behavioural Conflict at Work	6
2. The Empirical Background to Behavioural Conflict at Work	11
1. Empirical Knowledge about Negative Behaviour at Work	12
(1) Psychologists and workplace bullying	13
(a) Conceptual and definitional approaches	13
(b) Approaches to incidence	14
(2) Sociologists and ill treatment at work	18
(a) Conceptual and definitional approaches	18
(b) Approaches to incidence	19
2. Empirical Knowledge about Law and Legal Process	25
(1) Procedural issues	26
(a) ETs v ordinary courts	27
(b) Costs and funding litigation	27
(2) Socio-legal research into claiming behaviour by individuals	28
(a) Approaches to claiming behaviour generally	28
(b) Claiming behaviour about individual employment rights	31
(3) Socio-legal research into litigation experience with individual labour and equality rights	38
(4) Socio-legal research into organizational experience with individual labour and equality rights	48
3. Conclusion	53
(1) Bad workplace behaviour, unsolved problems, and suboptimal legal interventions	53
(2) Misconceiving the law and legal influence	54
(3) The collectivity of working life in the individualized discourse of rights	55
3. The Substantive Legal Background to Behavioural Conflict at Work from 1995 to 2015	59
1. The Statutory Right not to be Unfairly Dismissed	62
(1) Liability	63
(2) Remedies	68

2. Statutory Wrongs of Discrimination	71
(1) Liability I: Discriminatory harassment ‘old style’	72
(a) Racial or sexual harassment as direct discrimination	72
(b) The ‘old-style’ requirement to show a ‘detriment’	74
(c) The ambit of employer responsibility	75
(2) Liability II: Discriminatory harassment ‘new style’	77
(a) Dedicated definitions of discriminatory harassment enacted from 2003 to 2006	78
(b) 2008 changes to the law on sexual harassment	81
(c) The EqA 2010 on discriminatory harassment	81
(3) Liability III: Direct discrimination and victimization in behavioural conflict cases	82
(a) Non-harassing conduct as direct discrimination	82
(b) Victimization	85
(c) The EqA 2010 on direct discrimination and victimization	85
(4) Remedies	87
(a) Pre-EqA 2010 remedies	87
(b) The EqA 2010 on remedies	89
3. Protection from Harassment Act 1997	89
(1) Liability	89
(2) Remedies	92
4. The Common Law of Contract and Tort	92
(1) Liability	93
(a) Torts of intention	93
(b) Negligence in contract and tort	93
(c) The contractual duty of mutual trust and confidence	97
(2) Remedies	98
5. Conclusions	100
4. Factual Themes in Case Law about Behavioural Conflict at Work	103
1. Introduction and Method for the Qualitative Analysis of Judgments	103
2. Classic Litigation Stories about Behavioural Conflict at Work	106
3. Complexity in Litigation Stories about Behavioural Conflict at Work	107
4. Complexity about the Influence of Group Identity on Behavioural Conflict at Work	109
5. Complexity about the Role of Colleagues and Management in Behavioural Conflict at Work	110
6. Judicial Scrutiny of Behavioural Conflict at Work	112
7. Behavioural Conflict at Work Lost in a Litigation Maze	115
8. Conclusion	117
5. Legal Themes in Case Law about Behavioural Conflict at Work I: Overlapping Rights and the Snakes-and-Ladders Effect	119
1. Snakes I: Pre- and Post-Dismissal Compensation	120
2. Snakes II: Group Identity and Compensation for Personal Injury	122
3. Snakes III: Litigation Strategies	124

4. Ladders I: Common Law	128
5. Ladders II: Statute	131
6. Conclusion	132
6. Legal Themes in Case Law about Behavioural Conflict at Work II: Consistency in Applying Behaviour Rules	139
1. Statutory Unfair Dismissal	141
2. Statutory Wrongs of Discrimination I: Discriminatory Harassment	142
(1) Drawing behavioural lines in 'old-style' harassment cases	143
(2) Drawing behavioural lines in 'new-style' harassment cases	146
3. Statutory Wrongs of Discrimination II: General Discrimination Cases	148
4. Breach of the Protection from Harassment Act 1997	151
5. Unlawful Conduct in Contract and Tort	160
6. Conclusion	167
7. Legal Themes in Case Law about Behavioural Conflict at Work III: Consistency in Analysing Employer Responses	169
1. Statutory Unfair Dismissal	170
2. Statutory Wrongs of Discrimination I: Discriminatory Harassment	173
3. Statutory Wrongs of Discrimination II: General Discrimination Cases	174
4. Unlawful Conduct in Contract and Tort	177
5. Conclusion	180
8. Senior Managers and Lawyers on Behavioural Conflict at Work and Legal Influence	183
1. Introduction and Interview Study Method	184
2. Organizational Perceptions of Behavioural Conflict at Work	186
(1) Contents	187
(2) Quantification and impact	188
(3) Emergence and escalation	190
(a) Individual influences	190
(b) Organizational influences	191
(c) Proceduralization and formality	194
3. The Influence of Law and Legal Process	197
(1) Procedural influences	197
(2) Substantive complexities	200
(a) Prioritizing equality law rules about behaviour	201
(b) Marginalizing behavioural rules of other types	202
(c) Juxtaposing organizational and legal reasoning	204
4. Summary and Discussion	207
9. Senior Managers and Lawyers on Behavioural Conflict at Work and the Missing Collective Dimension	215
1. Organizational Approaches and the Impact of Individual Rights	218
(1) Employer dominance	220
(2) Unitarism	221
(a) Flattened hierarchy	221
(b) Commitment-style management	222

(3) Modern versions of pluralist collectivism	222
(a) Deep down	222
(b) Large scale	223
(c) Non-union solidarity	224
(4) Managers at the sharp end	224
2. The Silencing and Constructing of Individual Complaints	227
(1) General reluctance to complain	227
(2) Constructing reluctance (and complaint): Organizational culture	228
(3) Constructing reluctance: The costs of speaking out and litigating	231
(4) Constructing claims: Being 'difficult'	234
3. Complex Unease about Legal Intervention	236
(1) Dichotomizing enlightened management and law	237
(2) Ambiguity about law's influence	239
4. Summary and Discussion	240
10. Conclusions	245
1. Excavating the Two Faces of Law and Legal Process	245
(1) The challenge of law	245
(a) Enforcement	245
(b) Implementation	247
(2) The acquiescence of law	247
(a) Enforcement	248
(b) Implementation	248
(3) General methodological and theoretical implications	250
2. Individual Labour and Equality Rights and the Variety of Working Lives	253
(1) Managerialist evasion, unitarist ambiguity, and pluralist struggles	253
(2) Discursive obstructions to the emancipatory potential of individual labour and equality rights	256
(3) The missing collective dimension and using law to relocate it	259
(a) Normative accessibility as an emancipatory legal device	259
(b) Widening participation in implementation and enforcement as an emancipatory legal device	261
(c) Experimentation as an emancipatory legal device	264
3. Individualism, Individualization, and Solidarity	265
Appendix 1: Sample of Judgments 1995 to 2010 (Chronological Order by Judgment)	267
Appendix 2: Research Interviews with People in Organizations	271
Index	275