

CONTENTS

|   |     |
|---|-----|
| Preface  | ix  |
| Introduction                                     | 1   |
| PART I: Histories                                | 21  |
| 1. Lions in winter: public law in the twentieth century | 23  |
| 2. The dark satanic mills: the Victorian state          | 45  |
| 3. New corn from old fields: the Hanoverian harvest     | 70  |
| 4. Parchment in the fire: public law in the Interregnum | 83  |
| 5. The future of public law                             | 107 |
| PART II: Themes                                  | 121 |
| 6. The royal prerogative                                | 123 |
| 7. The sovereignty of Parliament and the abuse of power | 143 |
| 8. The right to be heard                                | 159 |
| 9. The separation of powers                             | 172 |
| 10. Public law and human rights                         | 193 |
| 11. The state and the law                               | 209 |
| 12. Standing and “sitting”                              | 229 |
| 13. Law without courts: the tribunal system             | 247 |
| 14. The rule of law                                     | 269 |
| Index  | 281 |