

Contents

1	The Case for Studying Social Harm	1
	Paul Leighton and Tanya Wyatt
	Part I Histories and Theoretical Perspectives
2	Beyond Criminology?	11
	Paddy Hillyard and Steve Tombs
3	Ideology and Harm	37
	Simon Winlow, Emma Kelly, and Tammy Ayres
4	The Assumption of Harmlessness	59
	Thomas Raymen
5	Global Harms and the Natural Environment	89
	Rob White
	Part II Methods for Studying Harm
6	On Researching Harm: An Ultra-Realist Perspective	117
	Justin Kotzé

viii Contents

7	Visual and Sensory Methodologies to Explore Environmental Harm and Victimization Lorenzo Natali	139
8	Documenting Harm to the Voiceless: Researching Animal Abuse Jennifer Maher	167
Part III Social Harms Based Scholarship
9	The Harms of Industrial Food Production: How Modern Agriculture, Livestock Rearing and Food Processing Contribute to Disease, Environmental Degradation and Worker Exploitation Paul Leighton	199
10	Work-Based Harm Anthony Lloyd	227
11	The Deviant Leisure Perspective: A Theoretical Introduction Thomas Raymen and Oliver Smith	251
12	Beyond Meat? Taking Violence Against Non-human Animals Seriously as a Form of Social Harm Nathan Stephens Griffin and Naomi Griffin	281
Part IV Social Harm: Visions and Futures
13	Crime, Harm and Justice: The Utopia of Harm and Realising Justice in a 'Good Society' Lynne Copson	313
14	Rebuilding the Harm Principle: Using an Evolutionary Perspective to Provide a New Foundation for Justice Ed Gibney and Tanya Wyatt	349

15	An Exploration of Security Privatisation Dynamics Through the Lens of Social Harm	377
	Helena Carrapico
16	Looking at Crime and Deviancy in Cyberspace Through the Social Harm Lens	401
	Anita Lavorgna
17	Harm and Migration	421
	Chris Moreh
18	Why Social Harm Matters: Five Reasons from a Feminist Influenced Victim Perspective	453
	Pamela Davies
	Index	473