

CONTENTS

Acknowledgments ix

	Introduction: Environcide, Society, and Total War	1
1	The Dogs of War and the Water Wolf in Holland: Environcide during the Late 16 th -Century Dutch Revolt	24
2	Scorched Earth, Black Legend: Environcide and the Early 16 th -Century Spanish Conquest of America	59
3	Environcide in the Dutch Golden Age: The Thirty Years War in Brabant, 1621–48	97
4	Raiders and Refugees: Environcide, Displacement, and Disease in 17 th -Century Eastern North America	137
5	(Un)Limited War and Environcide in the Age of Reason: The Low Countries, France, and Spain during the War of the Spanish Succession, 1701–14	173
6	Total War and Environcide in the Age of Reason: The Low Countries, France, and Italy during the War of the Austrian Succession, 1740–48	201
7	A Global Way of War in the Age of Reason: Environcide and Genocide in 18 th -Century America, Africa, and Asia	243

viii CONTENTS

8	Refugees, Removals, and Reservations: Environcide in the American West in the 19 th Century	279
9	Scorched Dutch East Indies: The Late 19 th -Century Colonial Conquest of Aceh, Indonesia	318
10	Scorched African Savannas: Colonial Conquest and the First World War in Early 20 th -Century Angola and Namibia	358
	Conclusion: Environcide as a Crime against Humanity and Nature	394

Notes 419

Index 515