

Contents

Acknowledgments	ix
1 Gendered Crime Myths	1
Why Gender Matters	2
Crime Myths	6
2 Learning Myths	18
Learning from Loved Ones—Parents	18
Learning from Authority Figures at School	33
Learning from Strangers—the Media	39
3 Living Out Crime Myths	49
Action-Based Precautionary Behaviors	50
Avoidance-Oriented Crime Prevention Strategies	60
Adaptation	68
Consequences	77

4	Raising Gen Z Children with Gen X Safety Values	80
	Instilling Safety Values	84
	Using Safety Lessons from the Past	85
	Teaching Fear with an Eye to the Future	94
5	What Kids Hear and What Kids Fear	108
	What Kids Hear Parents Say	109
	Translating What Kids Hear from Parents to What Kids Fear	112
	Kids at School	116
	Other Things Learned from Kids	121
	Kids Teaching Other Kids	128
6	How to Teach Fear Better	132
	What Society Can Do	133
	What We Can Do	138
	Conclusions	147
	Appendix: Research Studies	149
	Notes	155
	References	183
	Index	199