

Contents

List of Figures and Tables	vii
Introduction: A Grammar of Law in Context and Action	1
PART I: LAW AND MORALITY: BASES OF A PRAXEOLOGICAL APPROACH
1 Law and Morality: Constructs and Models	19
2 The Morality of Cognition: The Normativity of Ordinary Reasoning	41
3 Law in Action: A Praxeological Approach to Law and Justice	63
PART II: LAW IN CONTEXT AND IN ACTION
4 Law in Context: Legal Activity and the Institutional Context	93
5 Procedural Constraint: Sequentiality, Routine and Formal Correctness	117
6 Legal Relevance: The Production of Factuality and Legality	137
PART III: A PRACTICAL GRAMMAR OF LEGAL CONCEPTS
7 From Law in the Books to Law in Action: Egyptian Criminal Law between Doctrine, Case Law, Jurisprudence and Practice	161
8 The Natural Person: The Contingent and Contextual Production of Legal Personality	189
9 The Production of Causality: A Praxeological Grammar of the Use of Causal Concepts	211
10 Intention in Action: The Teleological Orientation of the Parties to Criminal Cases	233

PART IV: PRAXEOLOGICAL STUDY OF JUDGMENTS ON MORALITY

11	Morality on Trial: Structure and Intelligibility of the Court Sentence	253
12	Questions of Morality: Sequential, Structured Organization of the Interrogation	271
13	The Categories of Morality: Homosexuality between Perversion and Debauchery	297
	Conclusion: The Morality of Judgment and the Judgment of Morality: A Praxeological Approach	329
	Bibliography	341
	Index	357