

Contents

Part I	Theoretical Approaches and Issues of Fragmentation and Constitutionalisation of International Law by Human Rights Law
1	From Law as a Means to Law as an End: About the Influence of International Human Rights Law on the Structure of International Law Rules	3
	Audrey Soussan
2	Jus Cogens and Human Rights: Interactions Between Two Factors of Harmonization of International Law	13
	Erika Hennequet
3	Are Human Rights Law Rules “Special”? Study on Interactions Between Human Rights Law Rules and Other International Law Rules	27
	Marianne Lamour
4	Human Rights and Interpretation: Limits and Demands of Harmonizing Interpretation of International Law	41
	Julian Udich
Part II	Traditional Concepts of International Law Revisited by Human Rights?
5	The Influence of Human Rights on Diplomatic Protection: Reviving an Old Instrument of Public International Law	55
	Sebastian tho Pesch
6	The Inter-State Application Under the European Convention on Human Rights: More Than Diplomatic Protection	69
	Isabella Risini

7	The “Responsibility While Protecting”: A Recent Twist in the Evolution of the “Responsibility to Protect”	79
	Andreas S. Kolb
8	Human Rights Protection and the Notion of Responsibility: Some Considerations About the European Case Law on State’s Activities Under U.N. Charter	93
	Marjorie Beulay
Part III Impact of Human Rights on International Security, Armed Conflicts, and International Criminal Law
9	International Economic Sanctions and Fundamental Rights: Friend or Foe?	113
	Jean-Marc Thouvenin
10	Provisional Release in International Criminal Proceedings: The Limits of the Influence of Human Rights Law	131
	Anne-Laure Vaur-Chaumette
Part IV Human Rights and International Economic Law: Areas of Conflict?
11	WTO and Human Rights	147
	Stefan Lorenzmeier
12	Investor-State Arbitrations and the Human Rights of the Host State’s Population: An Empirical Approach to the Impact of Amicus Curiae Submissions	167
	Sarah Schadendorf
Part V Civil Society and Individuals
13	The Assertion of Subjective Rights for Migrant Workers	185
	Camille Papinot
14	The Individual, the State and a Cosmopolitan Legal Order	201
	Sinthiou Estelle Buszewski
Part VI European Union and Human Rights
15	Human Rights Clauses in EU Trade Agreements: The New European Strategy in Free Trade Agreement Negotiations Focuses on Human Rights—Advantages and Disadvantages	213
	Tobias Dolle
16	The Binding Effect of EU Fundamental Rights for Switzerland	229
	Astrid Epiney and Benedikt Pirker
	Index	245