

Contents

The Development of Individual Rights Protection in European Criminal Law After the Lisbon Treaty . . . . .	1
Bernd Hecker
Part I Developments in European and Domestic Case Law in Criminal Matters
“Dialogue” Between European and National Courts, in the Pursuit of the Strongest Protection of Fundamental Rights (with Specific Regard to Criminal and Procedural Law) . . . . .	9
Antonio Ruggeri
The Principle of Nullum Crimen Sine Lege in the Construction of European Criminal Law . . . . .	31
Giuseppe Toscano
The Nulla Poena Sine Culpa Principle in European Courts Case Law . . .	47
Giuseppina Panebianco
Part II Defence and Language Rights in Criminal Procedures
The Right to Information in EU Legislation . . . . .	81
Serena Quattrocchio
Lost in Translation: Language Rights for Defendants in European Criminal Proceedings . . . . .	95
Richard Vogler
The EU Directive on the Right to Access to a Lawyer: A Critical Assessment . . . . .	111
Lorena Bachmaier Winter

Part III Mutual Recognition and Fundamental Rights: The Protection of the Right to Freedom and the Collection of Overseas Evidence
Human Rights Violations and Mutual Trust: Recent Case Law on the European Arrest Warrant . . . . .	135
Martin Böse
Transnational Prosecutions, Methods of Obtaining Overseas Evidence, Human Rights Protection in Europe . . . . .	147
Stefano Ruggeri
Part IV Transnational Organised Crime and the Protection of Victims' Rights in Criminal Proceedings
Transnational Organized Crime and European Union: Aspects and Problems . . . . .	201
Vincenzo Militello
New Perspectives for the Protection of the Victims in the EU . . . . .	215
Tommaso Rafaraci
Part V Developments in European Criminal Procedure Law and Their Influence on Domestic Legal Systems: The Italian Perspective
The Influence of the Directive 2012/13/EU on the Italian System of Protection of the Right to Information in Criminal Procedures . . . . .	229
Giuseppina Laura Candito
New Perspectives for the Protection of Personal Data in Criminal Proceedings in the European Union and Repercussions on the Italian Legal System . . . . .	261
Federica Crupi
The Effects of the Directive 2013/48/EU on the Italian System of Precautionary Measures: Defence Rights in Remand Hearings . . . . .	279
Simona Arasi
The Impact of Directive 2012/29/EU on the Italian System for Protecting Victims of Crime in Criminal Proceedings . . . . .	307
Giuseppe Alvaro and Alessandro D'Andrea	