

Outline contents

SECTION A INTRODUCTION

1 Themes in intellectual property	3
2 The international and European framework	31

SECTION B PATENTS

3 Origin, background, and international aspects of the patent system	45
4 Patentability	60
5 Use and grant in the UK and Europe	110
6 Infringement and revocation	148
7 Supplementary protection certificates and the unitary patent	180
8 Patents—an overview	191

SECTION C COPYRIGHT AND RELATED ISSUES

9 An introduction to copyright	195
10 The various types of copyright and the quality issue	199
11 Qualification	234
12 The term of copyright	238
13 Authorship and ownership of copyright	246
14 Moral rights	254
15 Copyright infringement	268
16 Defences to copyright infringement	294
17 Rights in performances	319
18 Dealing in copyright	328
19 Copyright—an overview	372

SECTION D DESIGNS

20	Design and copyright	375
21	Registered designs	382
22	Unregistered designs	403
23	Designs—an overview	425

SECTION E TRADE MARKS AND OTHER IMAGE RIGHTS

24	Trade marks—an introduction	429
25	Trade marks—registrability and use	435
26	Trade marks—infringement and revocation	477
27	Trade marks—European and international aspects	519
28	Tortious protection of intellectual property rights	546

SECTION F ISSUES IN INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY

29	Confidentiality and trade secrets	587
30	Computer technology and intellectual property	626
31	Character merchandising	662
32	Remedies in intellectual property litigation	674
	Index	705

online resource centre

Franchising and intellectual property

Visit the Online Resource Centre at www.oxfordtextbooks.co.uk/orc/holyoak7e/ to access this chapter and other useful materials.

Detailed contents

Preface to the seventh edition	xv
Table of legislation	xvii
Table of cases	xxvii
Table of European legislation	lxvii
Table of international agreements, conventions, and treaties	lxxiii

SECTION A INTRODUCTION

1 Themes in intellectual property	3
Preliminary thoughts	3
Introduction	4
A brief historical overview—the origins	6
A definition and a justification of intellectual property	12
The current economic importance of intellectual property	28
An overview	30
Further reading	30
2 The international and European framework	31
Introduction	31
International intellectual property conventions	31
European initiatives	37
Other European initiatives	40
An overview	41
Further reading	42

SECTION B PATENTS

3 Origin, background, and international aspects of the patent system	45
History	45
Purpose	46

The international dimension	49
Obtaining a patent	54
An overview	58
Further reading	59
4 Patentability	60
Novelty	61
Inventive step	73
Industrial application	90
Non-patentable matter	95
Biotechnology	100
An overview	108
Further reading	109
5 Use and grant in the UK and Europe	110
Whose patent is it anyway?	110
Commercial exploitation in European law	123
An overview	146
Further reading	147
6 Infringement and revocation	148
Revocation	148
Infringement	155
An overview	178
Further reading	179
7 Supplementary protection certificates and the unitary patent	180
Supplementary protection certificates	180
The unitary patent	188
An overview	189
Further reading	190
8 Patents—an overview	191
Further reading	192

SECTION C COPYRIGHT AND RELATED ISSUES

9 An introduction to copyright	195
The roots of copyright	195
Essential elements	196
An overview	198
Further reading	198
10 The various types of copyright and the quality issue	199
Original literary, dramatic, musical, and artistic works	200
Entrepreneurial rights	226
An overview	233
Further reading	233
11 Qualification	234
Qualification by means of the personal status of the author	235
An overview	237
Further reading	237
12 The term of copyright	238
General principles	238
Original works	241
Films	242
Other entrepreneurial works	244
An overview	244
Further reading	245
13 Authorship and ownership of copyright	246
Authorship	246
Ownership	250
An overview	253
Further reading	253
14 Moral rights	254
General principles	254
The paternity right	256
The integrity right	259

The right against false attribution of the work	262
The right to privacy in relation to commissioned photographs	264
Consent and waiver	265
An overview	266
Further reading	267
15 Copyright infringement	268
Primary infringement	268
Secondary infringement	285
An overview	292
Further reading	293
16 Defences to copyright infringement	294
Authorization or consent of the owner	294
Public interest	295
The Copyright (Visually Impaired Persons) Act 2002	298
The making of temporary copies	298
Fair dealing	300
Incidental inclusion	309
Educational use	310
Libraries, archives, and public administration	312
Miscellaneous	313
Once more, the Information Society Directive	315
Orphan works	315
An overview	318
Further reading	318
17 Rights in performances	319
The problem	319
Subsistence of rights	320
Term of protection	320
The qualification requirement	322
Content and infringement	322
The nature of the performer's rights and their transfer	324
Moral rights	325
An overview	326
Further reading	327

18 Dealing in copyright	328
Crown copyright	328
Commercial exploitation of copyright in the UK	329
Exploitation under European law—copyright and the free movement of goods	339
Exploitation under European law—copyright and competition law	347
An overview	370
Further reading	371
19 Copyright—an overview	372
Further reading	372

SECTION D DESIGNS

20 Design and copyright	375
Introduction	375
The wall between design and copyright	375
Does the British Leyland defence survive?	379
An overview	381
Further reading	381
21 Registered designs	382
Starting points	382
Requirements for the grant of a registered design	383
Grounds for refusal of registration	389
Ownership of a registered design	391
Rights of the owner and infringement	392
Invalidity	396
Duration of the registered design right	396
Spare parts	397
International commercial exploitation	398
The Community design	399
An overview	401
Further reading	402
22 Unregistered designs	403
Introduction	403
Subsistence of the (unregistered) design right	404

The substance of the design right	413
The person behind the design	413
The term of (unregistered) design protection	414
Infringement and remedies	415
Commercial exploitation	420
An overview	423
Further reading	423
23 Designs—an overview	425
Further reading	426
 SECTION E TRADE MARKS AND OTHER IMAGE RIGHTS
24 Trade marks—an introduction	429
Trade marks—development	429
The need for reform	430
Why trade marks?	432
An overview	433
Further reading	434
25 Trade marks—registrability and use	435
Trade mark recognition—the UK framework	435
Trade marks defined	437
Unregistrable marks	447
Special marks	471
Uses of trade marks	473
An overview	475
Further reading	476
26 Trade marks—infringement and revocation	477
Infringement	477
Revocation and invalidity	512
An overview	517
Further reading	518

27 Trade marks—European and international aspects	519
International aspects—introduction	519
Internationalization of both trade mark law and trade	523
Trade marks and the free movement of goods	523
The real context	541
Trade marks and competition law	543
An overview	544
Further reading	545
28 Tortious protection of intellectual property rights	546
Passing off	547
Defamation and malicious falsehood	577
An overview	582
Further reading	583
SECTION F ISSUES IN INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY
29 Confidentiality and trade secrets	587
Historical development and conceptual basis	588
Elements of the action	589
Remedies for breach of confidence	619
Information—the international dimension	623
An overview	624
Further reading	625
30 Computer technology and intellectual property	626
Patent protection for computer technology	626
Copyright protection for computer software	631
Databases	641
The Internet	650
Semiconductor chip protection	659
An overview	661
Further reading	661
31 Character merchandising	662
Trade mark law	663
Design law	666

Tort	666
Copyright	671
An overview	672
Further reading	673
32 Remedies in intellectual property litigation	674
Enforcement issues	674
Civil remedies	681
The gathering of evidence	692
Abuse of enforcement proceedings	701
An overview	702
Further reading	702
Index	705

online resource centre*Franchising and intellectual property

Visit the Online Resource Centre at www.oxfordtextbooks.co.uk/orc/holyoak7e/ to access this chapter and other useful materials.