

---

Contents

Introduction .....	1
Michael D. Maltz and Stephen K. Rice
Section 1 Voices from the Street
A Conversation with Street Daddy: Pulling Back the Curtain on 20 Years of Ethnography .....	9
Scott H. Decker and Dietrich Lester Smith
Warping Time and Space: What It Really Takes to Do Action Research in Crime Control .....	27
David Kennedy
Observations on the Making of a Police Officer .....	33
Peter Moskos
Cure Violence: Treating Violence As a Contagious Disease .....	43
Gary Slutkin with Charles Ransford and R. Brent Decker
Why Criminals Tell Us the Truth .....	57
Sudhir Venkatesh
Section 2 Generating New Data
Gender and Sexuality as Methodological Confounds in the Study of Transgender Prisoners .....	65
Valerie Jenness
“Come Along and Ride on a Fantastic Voyage”: My Journey Through Rap Music Lyrics .....	77
Charis E. Kubrin
Getting Emotional .....	89
Stephen K. Rice
The Making of the Chicago Project .....	99
Robert J. Sampson
Surveying Police Officers .....	109
Wesley G. Skogan

Section 3 Mining Records

- Criminology, Terrorism, and Serendipity..... 119
Gary LaFree
- Playing in the Sandbox: A Methodological Conversation..... 127
Nicole Rafter and Amy Farrell
- Getting Things Wrong Really Does Help, as Long as You Keep Trying to Get Things Right: Developing Theories About Why Homicide Rates Rise and Fall ..... 143
Randolph Roth
- Twists, Turns, and Tears on the Path to the Cycle of Violence ..... 151
Cathy Spatz Widom

Section 4 Analyses of Existing Data

- Research Adventures with “Kinda Big” Data:
Using NIBRS to Study Crime ..... 157
Lynn A. Addington
- Elusive Facts About Gun Violence: Where Good
Surveys Go Bad..... 165
Philip J. Cook and Jens Ludwig
- Solving Criminological Puzzles..... 173
Kenneth C. Land
- Upon Becoming a Criminologist and Spending 30 Years
Thinking About Interesting Things..... 183
Pamela K. Lattimore
- The Devil Is in the Details: Crime and Victimization
Research with the National Crime Victimization Survey..... 191
Janet L. Lauritsen
- What’s the Question? Ask That and You Will Follow
the Path of Discovery ..... 199
Alex R. Piquero
- Predicting Risk: Who Knew It Was Such a Risky Business? ..... 205
Susan Turner

Section 5 Visual and Geographical Tools

- Systems Modeling to Inform Drug Policy: A Personal Odyssey..... 213
Jonathan P. Caulkins
- Practitioner to Academic: An Interdisciplinary
View from Both Sides of the Looking Glass ..... 227
Elizabeth R. Groff

“I Want You to Wear Something for Me”: On the In Situ Measurement of Police Stress and the Potential Rewards of Channeling One’s Inner Experimentalist..... 233
 Matthew J. Hickman

Sometimes Pictures Tell the Story ..... 241
 Michael D. Maltz

“Rounding Up Twice the Usual Number of Suspects” ..... 253
 D. Kim Rossmo

Small Worlds of Crime and Criminal Justice Interventions: Discovering Crime Hot Spots..... 261
 David Weisburd

Index..... 269