

Contents

Table of Cases	xi
Table of Instruments	xxxiii
Abbreviations	xl
Notes on Citations	xlii

Introduction	1
--------------	---

PART I. DEVELOPMENT OF THE INTERNATIONAL MINIMUM STANDARD

1. International Minimum Standard and International Law-Making	13
I. International Law-Making	13
II. Historical Legal Background	20
III. Factors Affecting the International Standard	30
2. Making of the International Minimum Standard (–1930s)	39
I. Nature of the International Standard	39
II. Content of the International Standard	46
3. Development of the International Minimum Standard (1940s–)	64
I. International Minimum Standard and Compensation for Expropriation	67
II. International Minimum Standard and International Human Rights	74
III. International Minimum Standard and Fair and Equitable Treatment	83

PART II. SOURCE OF THE INTERNATIONAL MINIMUM STANDARD

4. Most-favoured-nation Clause: A Case Study	105
5. International Minimum Standard and the Law of Treaties	111
I. Fair and equitable treatment and the road(s) not taken	112
II. Fair and equitable treatment and VCLT Articles 31–32 (except general international law)	120
III. MFN Clauses	133
IV. Special Rules of Interpretation	135
6. International Minimum Standard and General International Law	154
I. Treaty Interpretation and General International Law	154
II. Fair and equitable treatment and the international minimum standard	160

PART III. CONTENT OF THE INTERNATIONAL
MINIMUM STANDARD

7. Investment Treaties, General International Law, and International Human Rights Law	171
8. International Minimum Standard and Administration of Justice	181
I. Administration of justice and the classical denial of justice	182
II. Administration of justice and the human right to fair trial	197
III. Administration of justice and the modern standard of administration of justice	204
9. International Minimum Standard and the Protection of Property	217
I. Protection of property and the classical customary law	217
II. Protection of property and the human right to property	228
III. Protection of property and the modern standard	237
Conclusion	260
Bibliography	261
Index	267