

Contents

Foreword by Halfdan Mahler	vi
Foreword by Hani Serag	viii
Preface	x
Acknowledgements	xii
1 Our partially paralysed United Nations	1
People with no human rights	1
Child soldiers	2
Denial of access to effective HIV/AIDS treatments	2
Excerpt from Burma (Myanmar)	3
Sexual abuse by UN personnel	4
Human trafficking	5
The UN as a paradox	6
What is a nation?	7
The Treaty of Westphalia	7
References	9
2 The UN and human rights	10
Origins and aims of the UN	10
From declaration to convention	12
From declaration to action: the World Health Organization	13
The IMF, WB and WTO	15
Rôles of the IMF and the WB	16
A new version of the WTO	18
A quick history of WTO resolutions	20
The UN's authority to protect human rights	21
References	23
3 The Darfur crisis	24
Geographical context	24
Historical context	26
Political context	27
The issue of accountability	30
Worsening access to primary healthcare in Darfur	31
How conditions have deteriorated since 2004	33
Gender-based violence in Darfur	38
Human rights advocacy in Darfur	41
Implications for intervention by the UN	44
From police to security in Darfur	44
Present rôle of military intelligence	46
Prospects for amelioration of the Darfur situation	46
References	49

4	The well-hidden regime of Myanmar	51
	Context of the current situation in Burma	51
	UN involvement with Myanmar	53
	Health and human rights in Burma since 2005	54
	Myanmar's desperate health situation	57
	Burma's refugee crisis	58
	Myanmar's growing dominance in narcotics trafficking	64
	Burma's involvement in people trafficking	66
	References	71
5	Human rights in the context of conflict	72
	Some broad comparisons	72
	Historical background to conflict in Liberia	73
	Prevalence of extrajudicial killings	75
	Involvement of the security forces	77
	Use of torture to support prosecutions	77
	Ameliorative rôle of the UN	78
	Use of child soldiers in Liberia	79
	Lack of relevant information about child soldiers	80
	Psychological damage caused to child soldiers	80
	The war's violation of the rights of the child	81
	Four testimonies given to NGOs	82
	Continued violation of the right to health	85
	Rôle of official agencies in human rights abuse	86
	How should victims of trafficking be treated?	87
	Refugees International recommendations	88
	Changing attitude among expatriate staff	88
	Abuse of women civilians within Liberia	90
	References	91
6	The Palestinians	93
	Israel and the Palestine Territories	93
	Very brief conspectus of the roots of the conflict	93
	Foundations of the Palestinian Territory	94
	The rôle of Ariel Sharon	96
	The rôle of Yasser Arafat	97
	Impact of Israeli occupation	99
	What are settlements?	99
	Rôle of the UN	101
	Further US diplomatic involvement	101
	The political situation today	103
	Access to PHC and other health services in the Palestinian Territories	103
	The situation prior to the strike	106
	Household economy and health	108
	Analysis of the ICRC findings	110
	Violence against women and children	112
	References	114

7 Human rights violations in the UK	115
The UN and the developed world	115
The UK and violations of children's human rights	115
The UK arms trade and the violation of human rights	117
Arms sales and UK governments	118
The Saudi Arabia case	120
Children seeking asylum in the UK	122
What must a solution involve?	129
The UK's involvement in people trafficking and slavery	130
Attitudes to human rights in the UK today	132
References	134
8 WHO mediates the global right to health?	136
The UN, the WHO and the Universal Declaration of Human Rights	136
Origins, policies and development of the WHO	138
Origins of the 'Health for All' enterprise	144
The WHO's achievements	148
The hunt for Ebola	150
References	152
9 Can the UN promote the WHO's objectives?	154
Health, human rights and the UN Charter	154
The need for a politics of global health	156
The Swiss approach	157
The Brazilian model	157
But the Empire strikes back	159
Education in global public health	160
The need to legislate for international health impact assessment	163
Foreign policy with regard to trade and health	164
The G8, population health and foreign policy	167
References	169
10 Transnational advocacy and mediation	171
Cops and lawyers for the global village	171
The veto in the UN	174
Reform of the veto system	176
Humanitarian intervention under the UDHR	177
Reform the UN or replace it?	181
Guiding humanitarian initiatives worldwide	184
Should the UN be scrapped?	185
References	186
Index	187