

Contents

Part One The Victims and International Law

Some Previous Questions	3
The Approach of International Law to Victims	3
The International Norms Related to Victims	9
International Norms of a General or Universal Scope:
United Nations	10
International Norms of a Regional Scope	17
Europe: The Council of Europe and the European Union	17
America: The Organization of American States (OAS)	33
References	37
The International Categories of Victims	39
The International Concept of Victim: Almost as Many Concepts of Victim as Categories of Victims	39
The Different International Categories of Victims	40
Victims of Crime	40
The General or Universal System of United Nations	40
The European Regional System: The Council of Europe and the European Union	42
Victims of Abuse of Power	43
Victims of Gross Violations of International Human Rights Law and Serious	44
Violations of International Humanitarian Law	44
Victims of Violations of International Criminal Law	45
The International Criminal Court (ICC)	48
The International Criminal Tribunals for the Former Yugoslavia and for Rwanda	51

Victims of Enforced Disappearance	52
The General or Universal System of United Nations	52
The American Regional System: The Organization of American States (OAS)	56
Victims of Trafficking	56
Victims of Terrorism	58
References	61
Special Reference to the Victims of Terrorism	63
Victims of Terrorism and International Law: From Ignorance to Recognition	63
The Concept of Victim of Terrorism	70
A Previous Question: The Concept of Terrorism	71
The Concept of Terrorism in the Frame of United Nations	73
The Concept of Terrorism in the Frame of the European Union	77
The Concept of Terrorism in the Frame of Other Regional Systems ..	79
Consequently, There Are Sufficient Elements to Build a Concept of Terrorism	80
The Lack of a Concept of “Victim of Terrorism”: Proposals	82
The Proposal for a Directive of the European Parliament and of the Council establishing minimum standards on the rights, support and protection of victims of crime: an inadequate response for victims of terrorism	83
The Need for a Specific International Norm on the Victims of Terrorism	86
References	87
The Existence of Common Elements in the Different Definitions of Victim	89
References	96
Part Two The Rights Recognized to Victims by International Norms
A Previous Question: The Legal Nature of Victims’ Rights	99
The Legal Nature of Victims’ Rights	99
Criteria for Determining the Attitude of the State and the Legal Effects of the Institutional Norm	111
Characteristics of the Rights of Victims Recognized by International Norms	120
The Majority Are Rights Already into Force in International Law of Human Rights	120
They Are Also Rights Which Are Interpreted by International Bodies Under International Treaties of Human Rights	123

They Are Rights That Are Interrelated and That Have Links Between Each Other	129
References	131
The Catalogue of Rights Afforded to Victims by International Norms	133
Right of Emergency Assistance	133
Right of Continuing Assistance	136
Right to Investigation and to Prosecution	138
Right to an Official Effective Investigation	143
The Role of Victims Regardless of Whether They Have Filed an Official Complaint or Not	150
Victims' Right to Ask for the Re-examination of the State's Decision Not to Take Action to Prosecute a Suspected Perpetrator of a Victimizer Act	153
The Right of Effective Access to the Law and to Justice	155
The Right to a Judicial Resolution Within a Reasonable Delay	174
Right to Reparation and Compensation	177
Right to the Protection of Private and Family Life	201
The Right to the Protection of the Dignity and Security	207
Right to Information	213
Right to the Specific Training for Persons Responsible for Assisting Victims	221
The Right to Truth	224
Right to Memory	233
Increased Protection	242
References	243
Conclusions	245
International Norms	257
Table of Cases	265
Bibliography	269