

Contents

1	Parental Responsibility: A Moving Target	1
	Kristien Hens, Daniela Cutas, and Dorothee Horstkötter
2	Normative Responsibilities: Structure and Sources	13
	Gunnar Björnsson and Bengt Brülde
3	Disorders Are Reduced Normativity Emerging from the Relationship Between Organisms and Their Environment	35
	Anna M.T. Bosman
4	Advances in Genetics and Neuroscience: A Challenge for Personalizing Child and Youth Health Care?	55
	Elena V. Syurina and Frans J.M. Feron
5	Raising Self-Controlled Children. A Philosophical Analysis of Neuroscience and Social Psychology Perspectives	73
	Dorothee Horstkötter
6	Direct Electrical Stimulation of the Developing Brain: Who Decides?	91
	Farah Focquaert
7	Neurological Diversity and Epigenetic Influences in Utero. An Ethical Investigation of Maternal Responsibility Towards the Future Child	105
	Kristien Hens
8	Prenatal Child Protection. Ethics of Pressure and Coercion in Prenatal Care for Addicted Pregnant Women	121
	Wybo Dondorp and Guido de Wert
9	The Confused Stork: Gender Identity Development, Parental and Social Responsibilities	133
	Simona Giordano

10 The Lack of an Obligation to Select the Best Child: Silencing the Principle of Procreative Beneficence	153
Peter Herissone-Kelly
11 Parental Responsibility and the Principle of Procreative Beneficence in Light of Assisted Reproductive Technologies	167
Francisco Güell Pelayo
12 Should Parents Take Active Steps to Preserve Their Children’s Fertility?.....	189
Daniela Cutas
13 Family Responsibilities and Genetic Disorders in Yoruba Culture: The Example of Sickle Cell Anaemia.....	207
Ademola Kazeem Fayemi
14 Parental Autonomy and Responsibility in the Context of Prenatal Diagnosis. Views and Attitudes of Belgian Healthcare Professionals and Families.....	219
Sylvia Hübel, Adelheid Rigo, Kathleen Emmery, and Hans Van Crombrugge
Author Index.....	237
Subject Index.....	243