

Contents

Part I Fundamental and Legal Questions

- 1 Legal Fundamentalism: Is Data Protection Really a Fundamental Right? 3
Bart van der Sloot
- 2 Is There a Right to Offline Alternatives in a Digital World? 31
Murat Karaboga, Tobias Matzner, Hannah Obersteller, and Carsten Ochs
- 3 What Is New with the Internet of Things in Privacy and Data Protection? Four Legal Challenges on Sharing and Control in IoT 59
Ugo Pagallo, Massimo Durante, and Shara Monteleone

Part II Concepts and Tools

- 4 Towards a Code of Conduct on Privacy for mHealth to Foster Trust Amongst Users of Mobile Health Applications 81
Eugenio Mantovani, Joan Antokol, Marian Hoekstra,
Sjaak Nouwt, Nico Schutte, Pēteris Zilgalvis,
J.-P. Castro Gómez-Valadés, and Claudia Prettner
- 5 Minimum Harm by Design: Reworking Privacy by Design to Mitigate the Risks of Surveillance. 107
Elisa Orrù
- 6 A Purpose-Based Taxonomy for Better Governance of Personal Data in the Internet of Things Era: The Example of Wellness Data 139
Claire Levallois-Barth and Hugo Zylberberg

7	A Privacy Engineering Framework for the Internet of Things	163
	Antonio Kung, Frank Kargl, Santiago Suppan, Jorge Cuellar, Henrich C. Pöhls, Adam Kapovits, Nicolás Notario McDonnell, and Yod Samuel Martin
Part III Case Studies
8	Dangers from Within? Looking Inwards at the Role of Maladministration as the Leading Cause of Health Data Breaches in the UK	205
	Leslie Stevens, Christine Dobbs, Kerina Jones, and Graeme Laurie
9	On the Road to Privacy- and Data Protection-Friendly Security Technologies in the Workplace – A Case-Study of the MUSES Risk and Trust Analysis Engine	241
	Yung Shin Van Der Sype, Jonathan Guislain, Jean-Marc Seigneur, and Xavier Titi
10	A Study on Corporate Compliance with Transparency Requirements of Data Protection Law	271
	Christoph Bier, Simon Kömpf, and Jürgen Beyerer
Part IV Closing
11	Closing remarks: 9th International Computers, Privacy and Data Protection Conference	293
	Giovanni Buttarelli	